

Round-the-clock well-being services at a fixed monthly rate

HealthPass is a brand new way to support your employees and improve business performance.

Instead of paying for individual counselling, coaching, annual health checks and other services per session, HealthPass wraps all of our offerings into one easy payment. Think of it as a subscription for all the well-being services you need to look after your people's health.

Altogether better health for everyone in the team

Wouldn't it be great if your business could record fewer sick days, have a healthier, more relaxed workforce and see a performance boost from staff? That's the idea behind HealthPass, an all-in-one employee health and wellness service from Habit Health.

You might already be familiar with some of the services we offer, such as counselling and support provided by New Zealand's leading employee assistance programme, EAP Services, occupational health and workplace rehabilitation.

HealthPass is our new all-in-one subscription bundle, allowing teams to access an even wider range of health services at a fixed rate with no annual fee. There's a HealthPass to suit every organisation.
